

Two Hunted In $3,000 Robbery Here

A search spread throughout the tri-state area today for a pair of "Mutt and Jeff" bandits who escaped with $3,000 to $3,500 Wednesday night after an armed robbery of the Loblaw Inc., Market at 1840 Dresden Ave.

Police said the pair obtained the money, all in currency, about 8:26 p. m. after the taller of the two pulled a pistol from underneath his soiled coveralls, menaced Marvin Stewart, the assistant manager, and told him to hand over the bills from the safe in the store's office.

Officers said both robbers were about 35 and wore soiled brown coveralls. The man who pulled the gun and actually perpetrated the stickup while his companion acted as lookout was described as 6 feet, 4 inches tall, of slender build with sandy hair and wearing sun glasses.

The other suspect is about 5 feet 9 inches tall, of medium build, with dark curly hair. He wore spectacles.

Officers said the men got away with four or five bundles of $20 bills, with $500 in each bundle; one bundle of $10's containing $500, and loose bills totaling about $500. The loose bills were in denominations ranging from $1 to $20.

After the holdup, the men left the store and walked around the side of the building to a steep hillside overlooking Dresden Ave. They climbed a flight of steps and disappeared. Officers theorized they may have had a getaway car parked on Trentvale St., which runs along the hillside above Dresden Ave.

Police searched the immediate area a few minutes after the stickup and then broadened the hunt, meanwhile broadcasting a description of the men throughout the area. But there was no trace of the holdup pair.

It all began when Stewart saw the two men standing outside the building and peering inside through the plate glass window. He thought nothing of the incident and went to the rear of the store to work.

A few minutes later the pair entered the building and asked one of the women clerks for the manager. She replied the manager was out, but the assistant manager was present, directing them to Stewart.

The taller bandit then headed for the rear of the store while his companion remained near the front, acting as a lookout.

Approaching Stewart, the man asked: "Are you Marvin, the assistant manager?" When Stewart identified himself, the robber said he wanted to talk with him. As they walked toward the front of the store, where the office is located, the big man pulled a pistol from underneath his coveralls and told Stewart to "keep walking" to the office.

The gunman, menacing Stewart, told him to remove the currency from the safe and place it in a bag. He said he wanted no change, only bills.

Stewart put the money in a cloth bag of the Potters Bank & Trust Co. As the bandit prepared to leave, he told Stewart to sit on a chair in the office "and don't do anything." He said there was a third man waiting outside with a gun who would shoot Stewart if he gave pursuit.

Then the two left the building and vanished around the side.

Stewart hurried to the rear of the building and reported the holdup to Jack Strobel, an off-duty patrolman employed there. Strobel ran outside immediately in search of the men, but could find no trace of them. Then the police department was notified.

Patrolman Robert B. Pyle received the telephoned report of the robbery at headquarters. Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice hurried toward the store in a cruiser, picking up Patrolman W. F. Copestick on the way. When they arrived, they found another cruiser on the hillside above the store, operated by Patrolman Karl Samples.

Strobel also joined in the hunt. He gave his fellow officers a report of the stickup and a description of the two suspects. While some of the officers searched the area, others returned to the store to find if any of the customers had observed the holdup and recognized the gunmen.

Fines Levied, Game Tables To Be Junked

Proprietors of two Chester area taverns were fined and signed waivers for destruction of gambling equipment at hearings Wednesday night before Justice of the Peace Dick Wright on charges filed by West Virginia state police following raids early Sunday.

Thomas Betras, identified as the owner of the Rio Social Club, was fined $500 and costs for possession of gambling devices. The club is located on Route 30 east of Stewart's Hill.

Robert Fryer, licensee of the Half Moon Bar, west of Stewart's Hill, was fined $100 and costs each on charges of possession of liquor and gaming devices.

Wright said both pleaded no defense and signed waivers for destruction of equipment confiscated by the state police.

Officers said a gambling table was seized at the Rio Club, while two poker tables, a change box, a dice table and the top of a blackjack table were confiscated at the Half Moon.

Patience Will Pay Dividends Soviet Avoiding Deeper Viet Step, Koysgin Says

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Premier Alexei Kosygin has told the Soviet people and the Communist world, in effect, that the U.S.S.R. will avoid becoming any more deeply involved in Viet Nam than it is at present. He counseled that patience will pay dividends in the long run.

In a speech in Moscow Wednesday, the Soviet government chief offered this assessment of Viet Nam:

Administration advisers in Viet Nam did a disservice to the U.S. government because "they had prepared recommendations as to where and how the war should be started, but had not recommended how to get out of it."

"This," he said, "is precisely the question which now worries the most sober-minded leaders of the United States."

The Kosygin implication is that sober-minded leaders in the United States now are hopelessly entangled and in reality are looking for a way out of the Viet Nam war. He then went on to say that understanding of this was of great importance in assessing the world situation.

This suggests that Russia is willing at this time to wait and watch. Most of Kosygin's speech had to do with domestic affairs — shortages of some food and light industry items and plans to overcome such problems in the ensuing five-year period. Meanwhile, the Soviet Union is, in his words, giving the Viet Nam Communists whatever aid is "necessary."

Significantly, this discussion of Viet Nam immediately preceded an appeal to the rest

Probe Opens In Air Crash Fatal To Two

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A 30-man board is beginning a detailed investigation into the collision between the giant XB70A research bomber and an F104 jet chase plane which killed record-holding X15 pilot Joseph A. Walker and the bomber's copilot.

The XB70A's pilot, Al White, 48, ejected in a capsule seat Wednesday, suffering only bruises and shock.

Also killed was Maj. Carl Cross, White's copilot, whose body was recovered from his capsule ejection seat near the wreckage of the bomber.

The Air Force said it appeared Walker's chase plane hit the two tall verticle stabilizers on the triangular tailwing of the XB70A at an altitude of 25,000 feet. Both planes crashed near Barstow, Calif., 45 miles east of the base.

Manhattan, home of Kansas State University, 60 miles west of Topeka, suffered heavy property damage. About 65 persons were injured. Tornadoes also caused damage at Wolcott, Jarbalo, Basehor and Lansing.

Maj. Gen. Joe Nickell, adjutant general of the Kansas National Guard, said the funnel appeared to bounce off Burnett's Mound, a landmark in the southwest section of Topeka, then dropped into a heavily populated residential area. It then raked Washburn University, causing extensive damage to almost every building on the 160-acre campus.

The funnel, loaded with debris and moving ponderously, next hit near the state house on the fringe of the downtown area, knocking out windows in all the major buildings and blistering the streets with rubble. It continued moving northeastward, diagonally across the city, striking an urban renewal section called Garden Park and slamming into the municipal airport, damaging planes, the tower, terminal building, hangars and other facilities.

Gov. William Avery was at the scene of some of the worst damage soon after the tornado struck. He called out the National Guard and requested assistance.

The firemen struck Tuesday night for better pay and shorter hours.

500 Striking Firemen Snub Court's Order

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — More than 500 striking firemen ignored a court order instructing them to return to work today and most of them went to a union meeting instead.

City Atty. Henry L. Bowden said two assistant city attorneys are trying to decide what steps the city should take next.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. said earlier that unless the men returned to work on their regular shifts today, the city would apply to Superior Court for contempt citations.

The firemen struck Tuesday night for better pay and shorter hours.

13 Killed, 600 Injured By Twisters 2,000 Homes Are Wrecked; State's Capital Hard Hit

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Tornadoes battered widely scattered sections of eastern Kansas Wednesday night including the state's capital city where it gouged a 15-mile path of destruction. The storms left at least 13 dead, nearly 600 injured, and damage in the millions.

Topeka, the state capital, was hardest hit, with 12 dead. An estimated 450 persons were treated for various injuries. At least 50 were hospitalized.

Former Residents Had Narrow Escape

The home of a former East Liverpool couple was narrowly missed by the tornado that hit Topeka, Kan., Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore notified their parents here Wednesday night that only minor damage resulted to their home as the tornado swept through their neighborhood.

Moore is the son of Mrs. Ethel Seever of Azalea Ave. and Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Allison of W. 7th St.

Mrs. Allison said she was told that the entire block where her daughter resides was wiped out by the tornado, but that their house and two others were left standing.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore said the wind broke only two panes of glass in their home. Both work in a hospital at Topeka.

Police and volunteer workers dug through rubble throughout the night seeking trapped and injured residents. About 4,500 were left homeless.

Manhattan, home of Kansas State University, 60 miles west of Topeka, suffered heavy property damage. About 65 persons were injured. Tornadoes also caused damage at Wolcott, Jarbalo, Basehor and Lansing.

Maj. Gen. Joe Nickell, adjutant general of the Kansas National Guard, said the funnel appeared to bounce off Burnett's Mound, a landmark in the southwest section of Topeka, then dropped into a heavily populated residential area. Peace Talks Mean Surrender Buddhists Cite Temporary Need For U. S. Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Buddhist foes of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's regime came out today with a statement bearing marks of a full-fledged retreat. They disavowed neutralism and said any peace talks now would mean surrender to the Viet Cong.

The presence of American troops in the country is obviously needed temporarily, said a 15-point proclamation by the Unified Buddhist Church, which speaks for a militant minority of South Viet Nam's Buddhists.

Among developments attending the proclamation:

—South Vietnamese troops reported they and supporting warplanes killed 250 Viet Cong after beating off a Communist ambush Wednesday 48 miles north of Saigon.

—Military spokesman announced 244 allied servicemen died in combat last week. Of these, 109 were Americans. The Viet Cong were reported to have lost 902 killed, 120 captured.

—The Buddhist Institute's moderate chairman, Thich Tam Chau, called on U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. In Hue, militant Thich Tri Quang went into the second day of a hunger strike protesting the Ky government and American support of it.

On paper at least, the declarations of the Unified Buddhist Church formed a tougher stance than that of the U.S. administration, which favors negotiations with the Communists, including the Viet Cong.

U.S. officials declined to say what Tam Chau and Lodge discussed. So did the monk. But it was assumed he tried to enlist Lodge's support for the institute's new campaign of nonviolence against the Ky regime. The institute is the church's political arm.

The church's statement denied any neutralist tendencies among the estimated 15 million Buddhists it represents.

It said that to be ready for negotiations with the Communists "South Viet Nam has to be strong militarily, politically, economically and socially. Right now, Viet Nam is not ready yet and any negotiations would mean surrender to the Viet Cong."

The government military spokesman said three battalions of Viet Cong — possibly 1,000 men — ambushed a Vietnamese army supply convoy on highway 13 Wednesday. The government troops immediately called for heavy infantry and artillery reinforcements and U.S. planes roared in. When the battle ended, the Communists left behind three recoilless rifles and 50 other weapons.

Hurricane Death Toll Soars To 39 2 Dead In Florida As Storm Thunders Onward In State

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Alma, leaving a trail of at least 39 dead behind, thundered toward another landfall in the Florida Panhandle today after clawing the length of the state's west coast.

As the hurricane whirled up the Gulf of Mexico just offshore, heavy tides rolled across the beaches in the storm's wake, but did not reach the dangerous proportions that had been feared.

At St. Petersburg, where Alma came closest to the mainland, water running three to five feet above normal inundated beach roads and closed roads and bridges connecting a chain of offshore resort islands.

The predicted tides of 7 to 10 feet above normal would have wreaked havoc along great stretches of gulf beaches.

A curve to a northwest track apparently took Tallahassee, Florida's capital city of 60,000 population, out of range of Alma's strongest winds.

The weather bureau predicted that the hurricane would reach the area of Apalachicola in a few hours and winds would rise rapidly from Apalachee Bay westward to Fort Walton Beach. A possibility of tornadoes existed in north Florida and south Georgia.

At 9 a.m. EST, the hurricane was centered about 45 miles southeast of Apalachicola, a city of 3,000. It was moving northwest at 16 miles an hour, with top winds of 90 miles an hour and gales covering an area 450 miles in diameter.

Two persons lay dead behind the storm in Florida, and in Cuba the Communist party reported at least 7 were killed, 78 injured, and crops and property heavily damaged. Thirty were reported dead in Honduras.

Alma left a 250-mile trail of debris from Key West to Tampa Bay.

Top winds of 100 miles an hour whirled around the center as the hurricane struck the city of St. Petersburg a glancing but potent blow.

A last-minute westerly shift in the storm's track spared St. Petersburg's sister city, Tampa, the worst of Alma's winds.

Heavy rains fell over the entire Florida peninsula and spread northward into Georgia.

Veteran Actor Okay After Auto Accident

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Veteran actor Edward G. Robinson, 72, was in good condition today in Mount Sinai Hospital after an auto accident.

Robinson underwent surgery Wednesday night for rupture of abdominal blood vessels, causing internal hemorrhaging. The 4½-hour operation stopped the bleeding, doctors said. The actor is under intensive treatment.

He is expected to be discharged in about two weeks, doctors said.

Robinson told police he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car, and it jumped a curb.

Texas Boy, 13, Wins National Spelling Bee

Under Medicare Program

'Home Health Agencies' Explained

This is the fifth in a series of articles by Robert V. Harris, social security district manager in East Liverpool, on how medicare will work when it begins in July. The information is based on "Your Medicare Handbook," the guide that will be issued to all medicare beneficiaries during June.

By ROBERT V. HARRIS
Some communities have home health agencies that provide visiting nurse services and other home care or therapy to persons confined at home.

Your doctor or the people at your social security office can tell you if your community provides such home health services. Home health services are covered only if your doctor has determined that you are in need of this type of care.

The hospital insurance program will pay for up to 100 home health visits by nurses or other health workers from qualified home health agencies during 365 days following your release from a hospital (after a stay of at least three days) or from an extended care facility.

HOME HEALTH services are covered by medicare if your doctor makes arrangements for this care within 14 days after your discharge from the hospital or extended care facility.

The care or services you get must be a continuation of the care you got while you were in the hospital. In other words, covered home health visits are for the same illness you had while you were hospitalized.

Part-time nursing care. Physical, occupational, or speech therapy.

Services of home health aides (in connection with your treatment).

Medical social services.

Medical supplies, except drugs.

Use of medical appliances.

Any of the rehabilitation services outside your home which require equipment that cannot be brought to your home.

What home health services are not covered:
Physicians' services (your medical insurance will help to pay your doctor bills).

Prescription drugs.
Full-time nursing care.

Personal comfort items (television rental, "companion" services, etc.).
Services furnished by a home health agency operated primarily for the treatment of mental illness.

General housekeeping services.
Meals delivered to your home.

The following is a home health service case history example.
Mrs. A. fell down the stairs in her home and was hospitalized for 23 days. At the end of that time, she was now able to be up and around some, but her doctor felt she was not yet ready to go home. So he had Mrs. A.

transferred to the convalescent section of the hospital.

Mrs. A. was there for 20 days and was discharged, because she was well enough to be home, and the "home" atmosphere would be good for her. However, the doctor felt she should have certain services. He established a plan with a participating home health agency which could provide the services of a qualified physical therapist and a qualified medical social worker.

Each of these people aided Mrs. A. under the direction of her own doctor and each of them made 21 visits to her home over the next nine months — a total of 93 home health visits.

After the first $40 for inpatient hospital care, Mrs. A. was only responsible for the doctor bill (and medical insurance helped pay that). She paid nothing for the 20 day in the convalescent section of the hospital, and nothing for the 93 home visits.

Thirty dead were reported in the mountain town of San Rafael in Honduras, which was inundated by a sea of mud. At first, Honduran authorities reported 78 dead, but they revised the figures after a systematic count.

Viet Nam

their pursuit of the decimated remnants of a North Vietnamese regular army battalion in the highlands of Kontum Province 260 miles north of Saigon near the Laotian frontier. A spokesman said Wednesday the Americans killed 292 Communists in two days of heavy fighting.

The U.S. military command announced that American combat dead rose to 109 last week from 87 the week before, bringing the unofficial toll of U. S. fighting men killed in Viet Nam since Jan. 1, 1961, to 3,662. South Vietnamese dead dropped from 240 to 121, and Communist casualties also went down. The allied command reported 902 killed and 120 captured last week compared with 1,173 killed and 197 captured May 22-23.

It was the sixth week this year that the number of Americans killed reached 100 or more. Since Jan. 1, 1,814 Americans have died in combat.

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, no heavy ground fighting was reported, but American planes flew 81 missions against North Viet Nam, the highest number in a week. A mission usually involves three or four planes.

Shortly after Tam Chau emerged from the U.S. Embassy, the Buddhists issued a 15-point proclamation declaring that any peace talks now would mean "Surrender to the Viet Cong." This is an even harder line than that of the Johnson administration, which is willing to begin negotiations.

The statement by the Unified Buddhist Church, parent organization of the Buddhist Institute, also denied any neutralist tendencies and added that the presence of American troops in the country "is obviously needed, temporarily."

U.S. officials declined to comment on the meeting between Tam Chau and Lodge, which lasted an hour and 45 minutes. They said only it came about at the monk's request.

Both Tam Chau and his interpreter, Dr. Tran Quang Thuan, a former cabinet minister, said the meeting was "normal, on matters of mutual understanding."

Tri Quang began his fast on the porch of the house of Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa, progovernment mayor of Hue and chief of surrounding Thua Thien province. Other monks and nuns crowded around him.

He declared he would restrict himself to water and juices until the government resigns.

In another nonviolent protest against the government, Tri Quang's supporters in Hue kept Buddhist altars in the streets in front of their homes but moved them aside this morning to let a South Vietnamese military convoy pass through. They then pushed them back into the street.

The Buddhist militants turned to nonviolence after their campaign of street riots, rebellion within the ranks of the army and finally suicides by fire failed to arouse either widespread public support or sufficient reaction among military commanders to oust Ky.

The Buddhist campaign did produce considerable antigovernment feeling in the ranks of the Vietnamese army's 1st Division in the Hue area, and a U.S. military spokesman reported that the Viet Cong was trying to take advantage of this.

Angry seas kept small craft pinned down in ports the full length of both Florida coasts and along the Georgia shoreline.

Signs, trees, palm fronds, garbage cans were blown into the streets of suburban St. Petersburg along the Gulf of Mexico when Alma struck the area a 90-mile-an-hour blow.

But no major damage was reported. Electric and communication failure was kept to a minimum.

Scattered minor injuries were reported as plate glass windows popped out in store fronts and trees fell across houses.

Alma was charged with two deaths in Florida.

That brought the hurricane's toll of lives to 37 since she was born in the Caribbean last weekend.

Five dead were counted in Cuba, which Alma battered for five hours Wednesday before roaring into the Florida straits, sideswiping Key West and heading north along the west Florida coast.

Thirty dead were reported in the mountain town of San Rafael in Honduras, which was inundated by a sea of mud. At first, Honduran authorities reported 78 dead, but they revised the figures after a systematic count.

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — F. C. Coppicus, 86, manager of Enrico Caruso and other opera greats, died Wednesday. Coppicus in 1917 founded the Metropolitan Musical Bureau, a concert agency. He was born in Cologne, Germany, and came to the United States in 1905.

SCOURGE OF MILLIONS...

Arthritis considered the major cause of chronic disability in the United States today. It no longer need be crippling, however. Thankfully, early treatment, control, and therapy can contain this non-discriminate crippling. Swelling and stiffness along with soreness of the joints and pain and stiffness upon arising are early signs of arthritis. If you suspect any of these symptoms see your doctor at once.

Lopsided Ratio In Viet Nam

A further escalation of U.S. troop strength in Viet Nam of 100,000 by the end of this year is predicted by The New York Times.

The total strength then would be 400,000 U.S. troops, aided by the in-and-out military strength of South Viet Nam. The strength of the enemy is unknown, but guesses fall far below the combined strength of the United States, South Viet Nam and the token forces of South Korea and Australia.

Why is the ratio lopsided? How can the world's foremost military power with its vast fleets of planes, modern weaponry, highly trained troops and infinite resources be tied in knots by runty shirt-tailed guerrillas who don't even have enough to eat?

The guerrillas have motivation. That's the big difference. They are fighting on the soil against an adversary they consider to be an invader. Like all guerrillas, they have the advantage of knowing the territory and the natives. It has been estimated that in this kind of fighting one guerrilla can stand off 10 regular soldiers.

If there are as many as 200,000 guerrillas and North Vietnamese regulars fighting like guerrillas in South Viet Nam, it might take two million U.S. troops on the scene, plus another couple million behind the lines just "to keep the enemy's feet to the fire" in Viet Nam.

What it might take to convince him to give up is anybody's guess.

This is why many people believe it is the wrong war, in the wrong place against the wrong enemy. The most powerful military power on earth can be bled white by the fierce resistance of people fighting to force the Yankees to follow the French, British and the Dutch out of Asia.

They believe in what they are doing.

No Allowance For Error

A surprisingly frank account of the foul-up that cost the Gemini 9 astronauts a chance to dock with their target satellite has been made by NASA.

Failure to carry out a simple and obvious procedure scuttled a large part of the value of the project, reports NASA. Somebody goofed.

This was not the kind of thing that constituted discovery of a new problem in astronautics. It was the kind of mistake that must be written off as old human error.

It will make skeptics about the government's fantastic spending on space exploration wonder increasingly if the human element may be the ultimate weakness in space projects.

So far, the space people have had extraordinary success with the men chosen for space flight. They have exceeded all reasonable expectations in their performances in space.

But their missions and their lives depend on thousands of other performances by men who cannot be so carefully hand-picked. Here, too, the space people have had extraordinary success, in view of the incredible complexity of astronautical equipment.

Still the doubt lingers . . . Was everything done the way it was supposed to be done?

The funniest quip in the Space Age so far is about the astronaut who had only one thought as he climbed in the capsule and waited for the blast-off—that everything his life depended on had been made and installed by the lowest bidder.

All Is Not Lost—Yet

The unemployment rate, says the U.S. commissioner of labor statistics, Arthur M. Ross, is up from 3.7 per cent to 4 per cent. But all is not lost.

There is hope.

One reason unemployment is up (statistically) is that students and women registered for jobs in May. At the end of summer when students go back to school and women who looked for summer jobs quit looking, the rate probably will go back to 3.7, where it was before.

So what's new?
It's the same old story of labor statistics. The country is too big to count the people who are employed, unemployed and unemployable. It is too big to count the people looking for summer jobs because they would like to pick up some cash.

In the absence of firm facts about unemployment, it falls back on statistical projections, which thereupon are used in lieu of facts.

The trouble is that many people give them the value of facts when they are not—in fact—facts at all.

It is the same ticklish situation that baffles the befuddled television industry, which relies on guesswork projections when making decisions about what to put on and take off the air.

Should the government raise taxes? Should TV cancel a program. Hmmm. What do the guessworkers say?

Two Blocs

WASHINGTON

People huddle together in shock and terror but go their own way again when the sun shines. The Western world, which huddled after the last war, is showing signs it thinks the sun is out.

Twenty years ago it would not have been far-fetched to think of a union of the Atlantic nations, including the United States, to provide a common interest and a common defense to protect it.

They had learned from Hitler what lack of unity could mean. But the idea would never have been very real. The United States, whose territory was unscathed by the war, would never have yielded its sovereignty to some Western union.

The attitude of the United States might have been different if it had been devastated by bombing as Europe was.

The closest the Atlantic powers came to real unity was in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, including the United States, as a defense against Russian attack.

MEANWHILE, the east Europeans had no choice. They had suffered the full impact of the war and were scooped up by Stalin and put in the Russian bag as satellites.

Yet, just as in the West, each treasured its own individuality, called nationalism and, instead of immediately absorbing them, Russia let each have its own government, provided it was Communist.

Eventually, in 1955, Russia formed a counterpart of NATO by forming the Warsaw Pact, a military alliance made up of Russia and the satellites. So now there were two groups of huddlers: East and West under a military shield.

Purely Personal

Nothing recently has made me feel older than the retirement of a 74-year-old priest in Royal Oak, Mich. — the once famed and feared Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, who carried on a radio crusade against the Roosevelt administration when some of us were younger.

I gag on the idea that baseball has anything to do with sportsmanship — not when managers order pitchers to throw at batters' heads and discipline them if they refuse to be a party to this assault with a deadly weapon.

I have no idea what historians will call it, but they will have to record the fact that in the 20th century Britons and Americans went through a revulsion of feeling about bearing the white man's burden.

This has been the year of badly located bird nests at the Twillery. Latest misplacement: A brown thrasher's nest in floribunda rose bush scheduled for pruning.

I wish people would quit talking about welfare states as if they were socialists. Bismarck was running a welfare state in Germany in the 1880s and no one thought of calling HIM a socialist.

I am still trying to forgive a TV channel for unconscionable delay in telling viewers that atmospheric conditions were causing reception to go haywire. The television mechanic I am married to had twisted all the knobs on the set by that time and things still aren't in working order.

I wince when nonintellectuals say nasty things about intellectuals, or when politicians purge them, as is being done now in Red China. If I'd had the brains and the training, I would have liked to be an intellectual myself . . . either that or a multimillionaire playboy.

As a sometime observer of the way public relations are mishandled, I could wish the Johnson women's shopping spree in New York City could have been made to seem like browsing in a bargain basement. I know the ladies are loaded. But I wish they wouldn't advertise it.

All my working life, I have envied contortionists able to prop a telephone against their ear by hunching their shoulder. Finally, I have comprehended why this is impossible for me. My neck is too long. Either that, or the telephone is too short.

Battle Plan Working Perfectly!

Sailors Set 'Free Home' Goal

By Victor Riesel

A seaman's home may have been his castle, but today most seamen are family and live landside. And now comes "Big Joe" Curran, leader of sailors, with a pledge that their National Maritime Union (NMU) will fight to provide them with rent-free housing so long as they are actively going down to the sea.

Victor Riesel

If NMU President Curran can deliver, he will be the first to weave into solid fabric the gossamer strands of the workman's dream — free rent.

Mr. Curran, leader of 50,000 ocean-going men, as well as of those who work on rivers and some lakes, plans to make a free-rent fund the major factor of future collective bargaining with the ship owners. In effect, the free-rent money will come from the fleet owners.

This precedent-setting fund, which will accumulate just as do pension and welfare funds, will provide for huge apartment houses in the big cities and single occupancy houses in areas where land is free.

Thus, in the crowded port cities there will be high risers. In the outer ports, there will be one-family homes. All free.

"The money to carry the program will have to be provided by collective bargaining, of course," says "Big Joe." "This does not mean that all contract gains from now on must be devoted to rent-free housing.

"WAGES, PENSIONS, working conditions, etc., are all important and will get due consideration. It's a fact, however, that if we are to achieve rent-free housing for all members, it will have to be a major factor for all bargaining.

"There is no question but that this project should become the major objective of our union."

Inside labor, "major" objectives of one union are catching. They flare like fevers. So there is impactful significance in Mr. Curran's trade union-ese when he says, "We believe it represents a historic new approach to achieving economic and social progress for seamen or any other workers."

Note especially the final three words. Mr. Curran is giving his colleagues in labor's high command something new for which to reach in other major industries.

"Big Joe" may deal in dreams, but he is no dreamer when it comes to handling millions.

He has it all worked out with banks and investment houses — the same ones which guided the NMU (and the operators) in putting together their $92 million pension fund.

He is no stranger to home building. Already the fund is providing $14 million for the construction of skyscraper apartment dwellings for seamen and their families in New York, New Orleans, Chicago and San Francisco. These are the abodes of the pre-rent-free era.

The new price-less apartments are of the near future. As Mr. Curran sees it, the actual cash for the rent-frees will come from the $92 million fund.

The money will be advanced in the form of mortgages, etc. This will be repaid with interest from the fund, which will be built up as a result of future contract negotiations.

Big Joe, who conceived the plan, has details well worked out. However, he's a cagey one. To disclose them now would be to tip his hand.

The principle would be to ask the owners to pay certain amounts per sailor per hour or week into a new pool of cash. By no means would this preclude increasing wages, pensions, hospitalization benefits, etc.

Ship operators aren't exactly enthusiastic about all this. But neither are they enraged. There is method in their lack of madness and in Mr. Curran's rent-free scheme.

THE HOMES AND APARTMENTS will be provided, under Mr. Curran's proposal, only to active seamen. There is no talk of retirees. Thus there will be an incentive to the sailor to stick to the "mast." He is less apt to drift. He is not as likely to decide to stay ashore with a job in skill-hungry industries.

Fact is, the men have been drifting inland. They are not easily replaced. Teenagers of today see little romance in the sea. It is a jet age, and it takes little money to become part of a "poor man's" jet set.

There are no statistics yet on costs of some 50,000 high-rise or garden homes. In addition to the original investment of tens of millions of dollars, there is the matter of constant maintenance — not only money for heat and repairs and janitorial services, but for all sorts of taxes.

There is much to be worked out. There will be considerable table pounding.

But knowing "Big Joe" Curran, the NMU's sailors soon will have their rent-free landside fo'c'sle "forecastle," to you landlubbers.

Odd Facts

Jumping beans mostly come from Alamos, Mexico. The "jumping" movement is caused by moth larvae which spin cocoons within the beans or seeds of certain Mexican shrubs.

Cleanliness concerns most animals. Mice spend about half their lives grooming themselves. Fish and newts rub their bodies against aquatic vegetation. Frogs wipe their mouths with their feet.

The word "map" comes from mappa, the Latin term for the linen material on which Roman cartographers made their sketches.

Even the smallest, cloudiest man-made diamonds are as hard as natural diamonds, and are worth about $6,000 a pound to industry.

The sun's volume equals 1,307,460 earths.

Chan Praised As Teacher

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We, the students of next year's Math IV class at ELHS, think it's time that somebody answered these questions: What's more important — athletics or education?

Exactly who do the Board of Education members think they are? Finally, what more can you expect of a basketball coach than the fine job done by Mr. Chan?

Here's our evaluation of these questions for which we can find no answers. It appears to us that athletics means much more than education.

Everything, including the fine advanced mathematics program that Mr. Chan presents, is pushed aside for athletics. Beside this is the fact that some athletics are pushed and favored over others. It just happens that basketball falls at the bottom of the list, much to the dismay of the students who showed their fine support and confidence in Mr. Chan and his team by vigorously attending games home and away.

Our next question is a difficult one. What right does the Board of Education have to fire Mr. Chan when he did such a fine job? Could there be something behind the scenes that we don't know about?

This is the apparent reason—there's some friction someplace. After a poor start, Mr. Chan pulled his team to their feet with some great coaching. You must remember, too, that he didn't have too much to work with. He landed them much farther in the tournaments than they've been for years and made East Liverpool a team to be respected. He had many plans for next year when he would have had nearly the same team. Think of what a great show they can make with an added year of experience.

Why should he be fired now? What more can be expected of him?

Not only do we speak for our class, but for all his students and his fellow teachers as well. He has a special talent in the classroom that we feel is equalled only in a very few people, certainly none of which will care to come here to teach. Certainly you don't expect Mr. Chan to stay here only as a teacher when his desire is to coach basketball as well as to share his knowledge with his students.

We feel that the wrong move has been made. We feel badly because we value Mr. Chan ever so much as coach and teacher and hate to see him go. It's too bad that the school board doesn't see things the way we do. We just want them to answer our questions, as we wish to know exactly why this mistake was made.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The Board of Education has just made the biggest blunder in its history.

By voting not to renew the coaching contract of Mr. Frank Chan they have lost both an excellent basketball coach and the finest mathematics teacher in the school system.

I doubt if there is anyone naive enough to believe that a man with Mr. Chan's abilities will remain at ELHS as a math teacher when he undoubtedly will receive offers where he could teach math, coach basketball and get a big increase in salary.

Mr. Chan's coaching ability has been demonstrated by his won-loss record and by his tremendous popularity with his players and the student body. Only a good coach could generate the enthusiasm and school spirit shown while Mr. Chan has been basketball coach.

Mr. Chan's value to the school system does not end with his coaching skill. He is the best math teacher we have, and one would have to look hard to find a better teacher in the entire state.

I had Mr. Chan as a math teacher for two years and many of my friends had him for three. None of us ever had a teacher who could make a hard subject as interesting as Mr. Chan made math. The enthusiasm to learn in Mr. Chan's math classes was as great as the enthusiasm to win at Mr. Chan's basketball games.

The reasons given for Mr. Chan's dismissal seemed to be very minor infractions. A warning not to continue the disputed actions should have been sufficient. I believe that I speak for all the students at ELHS in urging the school board to reconsider and extend Mr. Chan's contract.

I consider myself extremely fortunate to have had Mr. Chan as a teacher, and I pity the math students who follow if Mr. Chan leaves.

Pennsylvania House OKs $655 Million Fund Bills

HARRISBURG (AP) — An estimated $655 million in House appropriations bills were en route to the Senate today, but their chances for quick passage are slim.

The 15 bills, most of them affecting public schools, represented a major effort by House Democrats to clear some 200 separate appropriations measures.

The 200 bills were introduced by Rep. Martin P. Mullen, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, as a substitute for the $1.29 billion general appropriation bill passed by the Republican-controlled Senate on April 19.

Mullen contended that the Legislature could maintain tighter budgetary control over spending with many bills, but Gov. Scranton accused the Philadelphia of trying to hamstring the executive branch.

Passage of the 15 bills on Wednesday brought to 46 the total number sent to the Senate, whose only action on the measure was to amend one, making it conform with the original $1.29 billion proposal.

In addition to passing the appropriations bills, the House acted on several other measures before quitting for the week. The Senate had adjourned on Tuesday.

The House: —passed two highway beautification bills and sent them to the Senate.

—received from committee $53.2 million in appropriations for universities and colleges.

—recommended to committee a proposed consumer credit bill with expectations that the measure be amended.

The largest of the 15 general appropriations bills to pass and the only one to draw opposition was a $445.5 million measure to provide school subsidies for a two-year period, beginning July 1. Mullen said the bill was $70 million more than requested by the Governor, but he said the additional money would be held back until 1967-68.

At that time, a new subsidy formula goes into effect, and the state will have to provide an additional $107 million a year for the schools. Mullen said the $70 million would help the state meet the higher subsidy costs without having to raise taxes.

Rep. William F. Renwick, D-Elk, objected to holding back the $70 million, contending that the school districts needed the money in the coming year.

Mullen said the House had approved a $34 million bonus subsidy for school districts on Tuesday, but Renwick maintained that there was no assurance the Senate would act favorably on this bill.

House Minority Leader Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan, sided with Mullen, and the bill passed by a vote of 198-2.

In other House action: Highway beautification — A two-bill highway beautification was passed on votes of 190-10 and 198-3. One bill would provide for the screening of outdoor junkyards along primary and interstate highways, the other would authorize the establishment of roadside rests.

Higher education — The House Higher Education Committee approved $53.2 million in appropriations for Pennsylvania universities and colleges, but withheld action on a proposed $40.5 million for Penn State.

Consumer credit — A bill to regulate installment sales and to require the disclosure of full credit charges was recommended to the Judiciary Special Committee. Sponsors said the measure would be amended and reported back to the floor, probably next week.

West Facing Fight To Hold NATO Intact

BRUSSELS (AP) — Western statesmen today still faced a fight for the preservation of the Atlantic alliance, after a NATO foreign ministers' conference that narrowly averted the wrecking of their defense system.

The foreign ministers headed homeward with the basic differences between France and the other 14 members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization still unsettled.

In three days of hectic diplomacy they won only time and a framework within which to recover from the body blow of President Charles de Gaulle's decision to withdraw French forces from NATO's military setup.

If they succeed, they can continue a coherent Western policy toward the challenges posed by Soviet Communism and the great unsolved problems of Europe.

Failure could push France toward a sort of neutralism, bringing in its trail divided loyalties among the allies and the ultimate peril of NATO crumbling into ruins.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, recognizing that historic issues are at stake, was flying to Bonn and to London today for a reappraisal of the situation with the leaders of America's two major allies in Europe, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville returned to Paris Wednesday night to report to De Gaulle. American sources reported Couve de Murville would visit Washington in September.

The immediate focus of France's feud with the other 14 allies rests on the future of her 72,000 troops in West Germany. The ministers worked out a hard-won procedural compromise providing: assistance from personnel at nearby Forbes Air Force Base.

Tornadoes

The heaviest damage appeared to be in a residential area in the southwest section of the city where an estimated 75 to 100 residences, including single dwellings, duplexes, and apartment buildings, were smashed. The top two floors of two three-story apartment buildings, the Embassy and the Huntington, were destroyed.

The statehouse suffered minor damage to the roof of the capital dome. Windows in the building were blown out and trees on the ground were shredded or blown down. The state printing plant, just south of the statehouse grounds, was badly damaged.

The National Reserve Life Insurance Co. building, a 10-story structure in the downtown area was roped off for fear portions of it would crumble. Police Lt. Fred Feaker said the building's interior was gutted and the structure was leaning.

The entrance to the Capital-Journal newspaper building was blown out, and across the street, a truck terminal was wrecked and semi-trailers were up-ended like match boxes thrown in the wind.

Mayor Charles W. Wright Jr. estimated damage in the multi-million dollars. Two thousand homes were extensively damaged or destroyed, he said.

At Manhattan, the Jardine-Harris student housing development was heavily damaged. The development is occupied by married students at K-State University, but most had vacated at the close of the semester.

The wind whipped roofs from the units and whipped debris over a wide area. The antenna of the university radio station and the Manhattan CATV tower were toppled. The Blue Valley trailer court in north Manhattan was smashed with 13 trailers overturned or demolished and others damaged.

The storm ripped down tents of the 69th Infantry Brigade at Ft. Riley. The brigade is a National Guard unit on active duty at the Army post, located near Junction City. Six men were taken to the Irwin Army hospital on the post. Three were admitted, but their condition was not serious.

Food industry shipments are expected to surpass $80 billion in value this year, the Commerce Department predicts.

India plans to allocate more than $200 million on birth control programs during the next five years.

Natural gas deposits at Hassi R'Mel in Algeria are believed to be among the largest in the world.

In Weekend Elections

Red Party Seeks Control Of Rome's Government

ROME (AP) — Using an unusually genial soft sell, Italy's Communist party is working to win control of the Rome city government in elections this weekend.

There is no likelihood of the Communists winning a majority in the 80-member city council. But if the Communists increase their vote just a bit, as they have done in every major election since the war, they could replace the Christian Democrats as Rome's biggest party.

This would have stunning repercussions. It would: —Give the Reds an unprecedented dominance in the national capital.

—Make the Communists, for the first time in history, the leading party in the seat of Roman Catholicism.

—Give the Communists ammunition for their argument that they can provide the basis for an all-left government with the Socialists, replacing the center-left coalition of Christian Democrats and Socialists both on local and national levels.

—Probably spark enough disruption within the Christian Democrats to cause the fall of Premier Aldo Moro's national government.

This election is regarded as an especially important political index. Nearly 5 million of the country's 34 million registered voters will ballot for new councils in 168 municipalities and three provinces.

The vote comes three years since the start of center-left government and the last national election, and two years from the next scheduled parliamentary election.

In the past three years both the parties of the center-left coalition and the Communists have overhauled their basic strategies.

Premier Moro has sought to muffle the Christian Democrats once vociferous right wing. By sniping at Moro's Socialist partners, the right-wingers enabled the Reds to ridicule the center-left as an unhappy center-right.

The Socialists and Democratic Socialists in the coalition have decided to reunite after 19 years of separation.

Faced with such signs of improving cohesion among their forces, the Communists have dropped their strident denunciations of religion and turned to low-key appeals to Catholics and Socialists to join with them.

This new soft approach has the church worried. The Vatican has issued a stream of warnings to Catholics not to vote Communist, more warnings than during some bigger elections in the past.

The communists are counting on their record of growth. In local elections in 1962 they won 22.8 per cent of the vote in Rome. They won 24.5 per cent of the city's turnout in the 1963 national elections, and 27 per cent in Rome's share of a provincial election the next year.

City Girl Chosen For Scholarship

An East Liverpool girl is among three selected to receive the first Edwin L. Wheatley Scholarships, entitling each to a total of $2,000 over four years' study at any qualified college or university, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced today.

She is Miss Sheila R. Ludwig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Howard Ludwig of 1856 Smithfield St., who was graduated Tuesday night from East Liverpool High School.

The scholarships were authorized by the union's international convention to aid children of employees of the pottery industry. Sheila's father, a kilnplacer at the Hall China Co., is a member of Local Union 9.

MISS SHEILA LUDWIG
Award's Worth $2,000.

AWARDED ON a regional basis, the other scholarships went to:

Miss Margaret E. Cremins, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Cremins of Beaver Falls, who is a member of Local 33.

Christopher R. Kanatsky, son of William R. Kanatsky of Torrance, Calif., who is a member of Local 218.

The IBOP's Executive Board announced the scholarship winners after a weekend meeting at the international headquarters on Route 7.

Miss Ludwig, 17, expects to study physical therapy. She worked each day at the high school clinic. She was a member of the Hi-Tri, National Honor Society, Latin Club and Class Cabinet, previously served on the Student Council and was president of the Future Teachers Club. She was treasurer of the local Job's Daughters Bethel. She attends the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Sheila attended Lincoln School and Westgate Junior High School before going on to high school. A brother, Leslie, attends Westgate School, and a sister, Becky Louise, is a student at Lincoln.

The list of qualified students in each region was picked by a committee comprised of Dr. Herbert A. Levine, chairman of the labor program at Rutgers University, Dr. Jack Wann and Dean Ronald B. Thompson, both of Ohio State University, and Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer of the IBOP.

The committee's report was affirmed by the IBOP Executive Board. The scholarships are named in honor of the union's international president.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Burglary charges have been dropped against a Cincinnati man who has been hospitalized ever since a policeman's bullet hit him in the spine on Jan. 25, 1961.

The Hancock County Council of Parents and Teachers will sponsor a workshop for all PTA members on Aug. 25 in the multi-purpose room of the New Cumberland School.

Plans were made when goals for the next term were discussed at a meeting this week in New Cumberland.

Robert Hall, superintendent of schools, briefed the group on the vocational program currently being expanded in the county. Many new classes will be offered to students of the Weir and Oak Glen High School students in September. Related math and English courses will be offered along with vocational courses. An additional shop also is being planned for each new high school.

Mrs. Audrey Litman, secretary, reviewed the Council's by-laws for the benefit of the local unit presidents. Mrs. Ted Cwiczynski, president, urged the presidents to attend the annual leadership training school at Camp Caesar Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Local PTA presidents representing their unit at this week's meeting were Don Murray, Chester Primary; Mrs. Ben Costello, Weir Junior High; Mrs. Tampa Campbell, Dunbar; Mrs. Harry McGranahan, Weirton Heights; Mrs. Paul Harris, Marland Heights; and Mrs. John Goddard, Pughtown.

City Opens Work On Street Lining

The annual spring painting of new center lines on East Liverpool streets began belatedly this morning after the city's lining machine was returned Wednesday from a Xenia factory.

Mayor George E. Willshaw said the first line would be applied to Lisbon St. from W. 8th St. to the corporate limits. The lining machine was given a major overhaul at the Xenia plant in recent weeks. Two city employees went to the factory yesterday to take delivery and receive instructions on operation and maintenance.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the street lining will continue in the Pleasant Heights area after Lisbon St. work is finished. Then the crew will paint a line along Pennsylvania Ave., Harvey Ave. and Elizabeth St. to the state line.

He asked motorists not to drive across newly-painted lines, pointing out the practice is forbidden by state law.

Man Enters Hospital For Court-Set Tests

LISBON — Keith W. Downard, 29, of 220 Carolina Ave., East Liverpool, entered Lima State Hospital today for a pre-sentence examination required of persons convicted of sex offenses.

A Columbiana County Common Pleas Court jury May 12 convicted Downard of charges of assault and sodomy. Judge Joel H. Sharp ordered him sent to Lima "for not to exceed 60 days." The hospital director will report to the court.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford conveyed the prisoner.

Commencement Held

90 Get Diplomas In Midland Rites

The Lincoln High School Class of 1966 was reminded of the heritage bequeathed them at the 55th annual Commencement Tuesday night at the high school gymnasium.

Dr. Joseph P. Giusti, director of the Beaver Campus of Pennsylvania State University, addressed the class at the rite attended by some 500.

Speaking on "The Heritage of Commencement," Dr. Giusti told them they would now be moving from one world into another; that the world in which they had been living had been largely one of receiving, whereas, the world into which they will be moving will be, at least should be, largely one of giving.

He stated, "As you make this transition, I am sure that you are filled with gratitude toward those who have made your education possible. I am sure that in the years to come you will give tangible proof of that gratitude by what you will show yourself to be and by what you will do."

"You have been educated mentally and physically to a high degree of fitness for the tasks which lie ahead; your goal is to achieve excellence in your own field."

He told the students that with every advantage we enjoy there is entailed a corresponding responsibility. He mentioned it is a world that holds out an opportunity as frightening as it is fascinating, the opportunity for thought and action of the highest import.

He advised the graduates that they must now chart their course, and remember that they can succeed, and they will succeed as they are willing to live the truth they believe. He urged them to let the principles, ideals and standards of excellence which they have acquired always be their guideposts.

He reminded they would now have added obligations and should remember the obligations are not a new burden peculiar to the class of 1966, but are obligations passed on to them by the older generations, who themselves assumed obligations to the future, thus discharging them, and because of their fulfilled obligations, the class of 1966 has arrived at commencement.

Awards were made by William A. Walters, principal, and diplomas were presented by Maurice J. Newman, president of the board of education.

The benediction response, "Alma Mater," was by the senior class.

The organ prelude was by Gregory Janicki. The concert band directed by Robert C. Fleming, performed the processional and fanfare, "Pomp and Circumstance" (Elgar) and the fanfare and recessional (Plyhar).

The invocation and benediction was given by Rev. McClure.

A vocal solo, "Comin' Home," (Willeby) was by Darlene Vignevich accompanied by Lynne Gruber.

A piano quartet, "Turkish March," (Beethoven) was performed by Lynne Gruber, Patricia Wasely, Jeanne Petrosky and Amy Wilson.

pastor of the Assembly of God Church, who spoke on "Tomorrow's Conquest."

Rev. McClure told the students that tomorrow definitely belongs to them and that they must carry on the past successes of man. He stressed that they must not only cultivate the mind and the body, but also the spirit.

He mentioned that the spiritual part of man is the part that makes him move, "the motor of the vessel, and the seat of the emotions, the place where love, peace and joy are known."

He advised the students to take Christ as a necessary supplement to their own achievements in order to preserve integrity, virtue and character, and to eliminate strife, hatred, jealousy and greed, believing that, with God, every obstacle will be a stepping-stone into success.

Rev. McClure stated that the third dimension of a Christ-filled spiritual life would make for a complete man or woman. He urged the class of 1966, in the words of Christ in the Gospel of St. Matthew, to "Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

The organ prelude was by Karen Murphy. The processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," (Elgar) and the recessional, "Huldigungsmarsch" (Grieg), were played by Mrs. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh at the organ.

Boy Protests To President
About Men Wrecking Hills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young Robert Douglas Jr. lives by the hills and loves them.

He wrote a letter of protest to President Johnson because "the men are wrecking the hill to make room for the people." He got a Cabinet-level reply.

This was the penciled letter, complete with spelling, from Robert, 8, who lives at 1200 Lynnwood Drive, Novato, Calif.:

"Dar Mr. R. Jonstion, How could we keep people from coming in to California and Marin county. Because people come in and the men have to wreck our hills and fills, and our rivers and woods to make room. Animals get killed and then we don't have any animals. It only takes the men 30 seconds to wreck the Indian mound and it took the Indian 300 year to build the mounds.

"I love the hill and and fills and river because I live by hills and the men are wrecking the hill to make room for the people."

The White House referred the letter to Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. His reply, made available to reporters today, said in part:

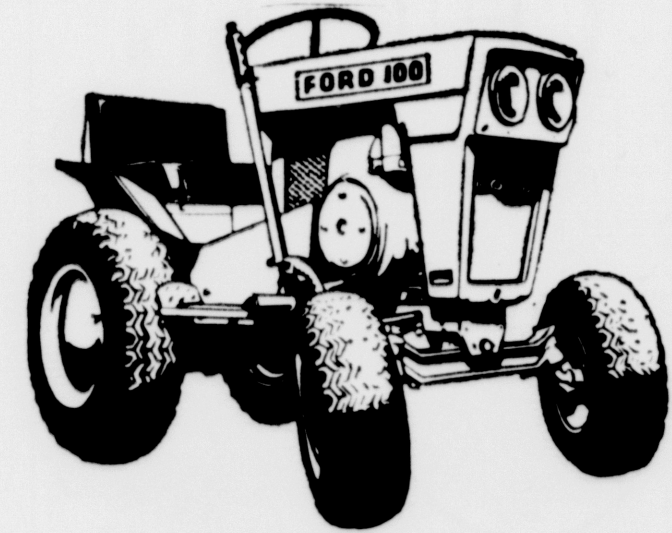

"It is with a feeling of mingled pleasure and sadness that I write in answer to your fine letter to President Johnson. I am sorry that your hill and fields are disappearing under the bulldozers' tracks and am very pleased and impressed with your mature reaction.

"When you say 'I live by hills' you are expressing something

Council Weighs Plan

Midland Police May Use Portable Radio On Beats

A discussion of the possible purchase of portable radio units for the police department and the scheduling of a meeting with Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Co. officials on the false alarms that occurred during the switch-over of the new Midland office were the major items of business as Midland Council met Wednesday night at the borough building.

The portable radio units were displayed by Art Edwards of Motorola, Inc., who explained that the small radios, which are eight inches tall and weigh about one pound, cover a five-mile area and can be set at the same frequency as the main radio unit in the station.

HE SAID the units could be used to replace the call boxes in the borough, since patrolmen can carry them and be in contact with the station at all times.

Rudolph Presutti, council vice president, who presided in the absence of William Vinovich Sr., said the portable radios have been under investigation for some time and "appear to be a good investment for the borough." He pointed out the eight call boxes in the borough cost $81 a month rental.

He said the federal government would refund half of the purchase price of the units.

Upon the recommendation of Presutti, Council authorized the Police Committee to study bids on the units.

Chief Ed Steff said the department is requesting four units.

Edwards said the cost for unit would be $682.

FIRE CHIEF Vincent D'Itri reported that Robert Cousin, manager of the Rochester office of Pennsylvania Bell, will meet with him and Joseph Hibbard, chairman of Council's Fire Committee, Friday at 10 a.m. in the borough building to discuss the recent false alarms.

An agreement will be sought on the paying of wages to firemen who answered the alarms, which were triggered accidentally during the switchover to operations at the new Midland office of the utility.

Presutti, chairman of the Traffic Committee, said to date no word has been received as to whether the Crucible Steel Co. plans to help alleviate the traffic problems in the borough. "As soon as we receive a report from officials at the mill, we will decide what can be done," he said.

At an earlier meeting with Joseph Scalise, personnel relations manager at the plant, the Traffic Committee had requested the opening of the 6th St. gate to allow workers at the west end of the mill easy access out of the borough.

Presutti also reported that playground equipment has begun to arrive and is being installed.

Councilman William Shovin, director of the Hot Stove League, complimented Louis Granito, assistant street department manager, "on the fine job done" by the department in preparing the two league fields for the season.

TOM CURRY of 50 5th St. asked Council who was responsible for keeping the grass cut at the Crucible picnic area. He said that he and a group of friends had obtained a reservation at the area, but the grass was too high to permit its use.

Curry said he had asked the secretary at Crucible, who provided the reservations, who was responsible for taking care of the grounds and was informed it was the borough's duty.

Councilman Joseph D'alesio informed Curry that the borough never has taken care of the picnic area. He pointed out "the insurance does not cover borough personnel who work in that area and if anyone should be hurt while working there, he could sue the borough."

"Taking care of the property is definitely Crucible's responsibility, but we will check on the confusion over maintenance of the facility."

The tables were decorated in a color scheme of orchid and green and each member received a bottle of cologne as a favor.

Members who have not picked up their blankets are to contact Mrs. Wilson or Mrs. Podewell.

Meetings will resume in the fall.

The pro shop is in an isolated location on Metz Rd., east of Route 164. Deputy Gray said Kovach told him the equipment was insured. It included 92 dozen golf balls, 11 bags and 20 sets of clubs.

Chester Council Asks Repairs At Crossings

Chester Council Wednesday night authorized Clerk - Treasurer Roy Cashdollar to write Pennsylvania Railroad officials relative to repairs at rough grade crossings within the city limits.

Councilman Percy Willison announced that he had met with a supervisor of the railroad company who agreed to shut down the locomotive switch engine stationed in the vicinity of the 9th St. crossing.

The official said the action will be taken within two days, according to Willison. The engine remains in operation continuously during the night during the winter months when battery power is insufficient for starting it, the councilman explained, and has been the source of many complaints.

Council approved the request of the Nazarene Church to place slag in front of the church on Virginia Ave. to facilitate parking.

Wages of street department personnel were discussed, but no action was taken.

Remittances totaling $4,750.97, including $4,000 in the sheriff's balance, were received. Bills in the amount of $2,719.25 were approved for payment.

Following adjournment of the regular meeting, Council members sat as a board of canvassers and certified the tabulation of votes in Tuesday's general election. No changes resulted in the official count.

Present last night were Cashdollar and all councilmen, Charles Kology, Richard Johnston, Donald Hissam, Walter McSwegin and Willison.

Mayor Harry Abrams presided.

Boy Scouts Urged To Scrap Short Pants, Drop Word Boy

LONDON (AP) — A committee of Boy Scout leaders urged the organization today to scrap its short pants, drop the word boy from its name and take an interest in girls.

The committee's report, delivered after two and a half years of study, recommended a revolutionary streamlining of the worldwide organization founded in Britain by Lord Baden-Powell in 1908.

The 24 committee members — all of them under 45 — said in their report that the scouts need a new image.

Shorts, the report said, "are one of the most damaging aspects of our present public image. They are responsible for the scout movement being dubbed as a juvenile organization in which men drop back to boyhood level."

They recommended mushroom-colored trousers, slightly tapered, with no cuffs.

The streamliners said scouts should wear berets instead of the old-fashioned army hats, and that the berets and shirts should be green.

They also recommended: Scouting activities should be kept to a minimum and "outmoded activities and childish games" should be abolished.

Senior and Rover Scouts should be called "Venture Scouts," a name which is "virile, active and forward looking."

Boy Scouts should be called Scouts.

"Venture Scouts between the ages of 16 and 20 should be meeting girls," the report declared. It recommended a joint committee representing Venture Scout units and Girl Guide — Girl Scout — units to "combine their activities."

The board will meet in a special session June 20 to discuss the budget and award the bids.

The board also approved a kindergarten program for the summer with eight weeks of classes. The program will cost $25,892 with the money being granted under Title I of the Elementary Secondary Education Act. Also under Title I, an elementary library will be established at a cost of $14,136.

The board also approved the purchase of library books totaling $1,622 which will be paid under funds granted by Title II of the ESEA.

In other action, resignations were accepted from Miss Shirley J. Woodling, an elementary teacher, and Mrs. Faye Fox, a cafeteria employee.

The board approved the participation of the high school band in the Thanksgiving Day Parade at Pittsburgh and gave the PTA permission to hold a career night at the high school in the fall.

Banks and his companions — Douglas Lawrence, Donald Irwin and Stanley Knapp, all of Fort Wayne — were reported on the way home from a Canadian fishing trip.

Planes of the Coast Guard and Michigan State Police searched the lake after operators of the Coast Guard control tower here reported a distress call from the plane.

Costs Taxpayers $160 Million Yearly

Uncle Sam Nation's 'Numbers King'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam is the nation's numbers king and it's costing the taxpayers more than $160 million yearly, at last count, to keep him on top of the heap.

In this case the numbers are statistics and the federal government yearly issues thousands of statistical reports on a daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual basis on almost everything imaginable. The list runs from shipments of pails and farm pumps to the cost of a basket of groceries, number of unemployed persons and business investments.

"We do our best to keep errors under control," said Howard C. Grieves, deputy director of the Census Bureau, the largest statistical gathering agency in government. Grieves said the bureau tries to hold the margins of error at no more than 5 per cent.

Pennsylvania House Passes Highway Beauty Measure

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation aimed at making Pennsylvania highways more scenic was passed by the House on Wednesday and sent to the Senate.

One bill would provide for the screening of outdoor junkyards along primary and interstate highways, while the second would authorize the state to establish roadside rest for travelers. The votes on the measures were 190-10 and 198-3, respectively.

Highway beautification was one of the subjects contained in a special session of the General Assembly called by Gov. Scranton. Under the first House bill, an outdoor junkyard could not be established within 1,000 feet of a highway right-of-way unless it is adequately screened or located in an industrial area.

The state could shut down any junkyard for which no screening could be devised after compensating the owner. The operators of a junkyard permitted to remain in business would have to obtain a license at an annual fee of $50.

Under the roadside rests bill, the state would be authorized to acquire land within 1,000 feet of a highway right-of-way in order to construct sanitary and other noncommercial facilities for public use.

A highway beautification fund would be created to pay for such sites and compensate junkyard owners forced to relocate. The fund would be financed by fees, fines and federal money.

A proposed constitutional amendment was introduced to authorize political subdivisions of the state to exempt low-income persons over 65 and those totally disabled from paying real taxes on homes, worth less than $10,000.

The amendment was introduced by Rep. Frank Polaski, D-Erie, and bore the names of 41 other sponsors from both sides of the aisle.

has also disputed monthly unemployment figures published by the Labor Department because they don't state whether a man is employed full time or works only two or three days a week.

"We accept the validity of the actual numbers," the National Association of Manufacturers said. "Statistics are more important in their interpretations."

The Chamber of Commerce said that teen-agers and other persons who are not heads of households are included in the unemployment statistics, a factor which could distort the result unless this is explained in making the figures public.

The NAM said limitations of data should be realized. "The unemployment statistics are not a measure of hardship," the organization said.

The statistics which came under the most recent attack were compiled by the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics and the Securities and Exchange Commission which projected a 16 per cent increase in spending this year for plant and equipment.

Since this is a key economic factor in measuring inflationary pressure, the report got more than routine treatment, especially since a private survey of business investment plans made

2 More Ohio Soldiers Killed In Viet Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two central Ohio families learned Wednesday they have lost sons in the Viet Nam war—Army Sgt. Franklin Smith, 25, and Marine Cpl. Rick Knight, 21.

Smith, whose mother, Mrs. Harry Smith, lives here and whose widow, Geraldine, lives in Circleville, died of wounds received on a combat patrol with a 101st Airborne Division unit. The Army said he was hit when an artillery round fired by friendly troops fell short.

Knight was killed by a phosphorus grenade in friendly territory outside Chu Lai, the Marine Corps said. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Knight of Columbus.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: This is in regard to the hint about frying a big batch of bacon ahead of time and heating portions of it in the oven as needed.

I have found a simple way to prepare bacon in the oven without frying it beforehand.

Light the oven, set at 400 degrees and let pre-heat.

Place a wire grill or cooling rack on a cookie sheet that has been lined with foil, and lay bacon slices on the grill.

Pop this into the oven, and set your timer at 10 minutes and forget about it. No turning is necessary.

Remove bacon while still hot and drain on paper towels.

If you have never used this method before, you may want to take a peek before the 10 minutes are up, since the baking time may vary slightly for different brands of bacon (due to thickness, etc.), and according to the desired degree of crispness one wants.

This method not only leaves you free to attend to the rest of the breakfast preparation, but also turns out a straight strip of bacon, done to perfection on both sides.

MRS. FRED EBSTEIN.

I tried this method and it is wonderful.

The most fabulous thing about this is that all of the grease from the bacon dropped onto my foil, and there was no dirty pan to clean.

The bacon cooked uniformly and the strip did not shrink as it does when fried.

Also, the bacon drippings I captured were a beautiful clear white (for use later) instead of the brownish color it is when I use a frying pan.

A big bunch of love to Mrs. Ebstein for this breakfast hint.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you happen to have leftover paper and envelopes with an old address on same... buy several seals of flowers, butterflies, etc., and arrange attractively over obsolete address, matching envelopes and paper with the same color seals. Quite attractive, too.

DONNA REATA TUCKER.

DEAR HELOISE: My sister, who is very tidy, thought this one up:

Use a tall olive bottle to store wire "twist-ems" from grocery packages to reuse after straightening them out.

THEODORA.

DEAR FOLKS: For those of you who have a glass shelf above the vegetable tray in your refrigerator, here's a little hint you might appreciate.

If that piece of glass does not have some sort of protection, put some adhesive-backed tape along the front edge.

There are two very good reasons for this:

It might keep you from cutting your hand when you reach in for a head of lettuce. Also, looking closely, I found that the edges along my glass were chipped. Now, where did this glass go? Probably down into the vegetable drawer!

Those who break their shelves and order new ones, might think about purchasing plastic. It won't chip.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that a man's T-shirt is a wonderful emergency night shirt if a child spends the night with you but didn't bring along pajamas?

Our little overnight visitors (boys and girls) have all thought it was a wonderful idea.

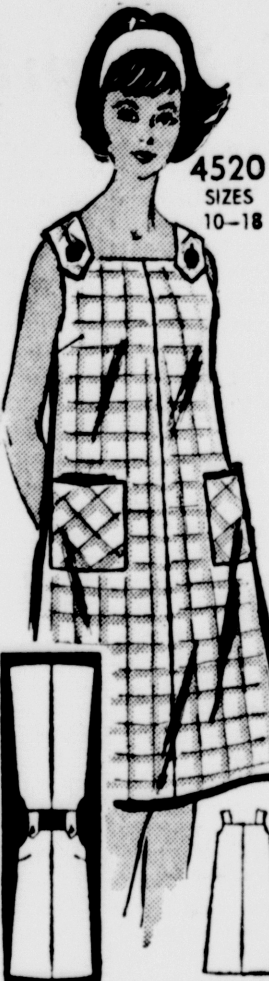

GRANDMOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: I tried many places to get a new mat for the top of my stove, but could not find the correct size.

So... I just covered the old mat with adhesive-backed plastic paper, and it's like new again.

MRS. LUCILLE HARLOW.

Drivers Cited As Autos Ram In Heavy Fog

Three motorists were cited as a result of three separate accidents within a few minutes early Wednesday morning during heavy fog on Route 39, two and a tenth miles west of Wellsville.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the accidents began at 6:45 a. m. The first crash involved a 1951 pickup truck operated by John W. Orsock, 46, of 532 McCready Rd., Wellsville; a 1960 pickup operated by William James McLain, 29, of Amsterdam, a 1965 pickup driven by Oaken F. Hawkins, 54, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and a 1964 sedan operated by James E. Wilson, 30, of Wilson Rd., Wellsville R. D. 1.

Orsock, McLain and Hawkins were stopped on the highway for the traffic, which was halted because of the dense fog, when Wilson's car hit the rear of Hawkins and started the chain reaction crash. Wilson was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

McLain was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the left eyelid and contusions of the nose and head. Wilson was treated for a small abrasion of the left temple and contusions of the elbow.

Three minutes later Hawkins' truck was hit by another pickup truck operated by Joseph D. Collins, 49, of Minerva R. D. 2. Collins was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

About 10 minutes after the first mishap, three more vehicles were involved in a crash at the scene.

The drivers were Eria Jakubowski, 36, of Salineville R. D. 1, J. W. Taggart, 49, of Salineville R. D. 1, and Kenneth James Leonard, 21, of Salineville R. D. 1.

Mrs. Jakubowski and Taggart were stopped in the fog because of the previous accidents. Leonard's car hit the rear of Taggart's car, driving him into the Jakubowski vehicle. Leonard was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Mrs. Jakubowski complained of an injury, but was not treated.

'Fleet' Will Root For Boy When He Undergoes Surgery

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — When 11-year-old Mike Rau undergoes heart surgery later this summer, he'll have a lot of rooters in his corner. Maybe a whole fleet of them.

Mike, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Rau of Rt. 6, Defiance has been confined to bed since early February with rheumatic fever, a disease which has left his heart valves damaged.

But Mike hasn't moped. His bed was moved downstairs and in front of a big picture window that overlooks the highway — and therein lies the tale.

Like most young boys, Mike liked the big trucks he saw rolling down the highway. He began waving to the drivers as they passed.

And soon, they began to slow down as they went by, seeing the small fourth-grader in his bed in the window. They started waving back, and tooting their big horns.

One day one trucker brought his rig to a halt and knocked on the door. Chuck Haxter said he heard about Mike at a truck stop along the road and thought he would just drop in to "see how Mike was makin' out."

Soon other drivers began stopping in, "but only if they were ahead of schedule," according to Mike's mother.

When they found out Mike will have to undergo heart surgery, they brought presents.

Chuck had a trucker's outfit made to order. Then fellow trucker Herb Wilson stopped, took off his wrist watch, "right off of his arm," and gave it to Mike, "just for good luck."

Wilson said he gave the boy the watch, presented by Cadillac Trucking Co. of Detroit, Mich., in appreciation of years of safe driving, "so he could keep tab of our schedule of runs past his home."

Mike was made an honorary member of Cadillac Trucking, the firm most of his trucker friends work for.

Now, as the big rigs pass Mike's house on Ohio Route 281, most of them toot, even in the middle of the night, "just to let Mike know they're thinking of him."

Mike's mother says the lad enjoys his friends and more or less takes it in stride.

"I don't think he understands what the operation is about or that it will have to be done," she said, but she is certain that Mike's friends will be there.

There are 22 states and four territories in Brazil. The capital, Brasilia, is a federal district.

Holds Back Penn State Fund

House Unit Sets 'Wedge' To Force Action On Pitt

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Higher Education Committee is holding back a $40.5 million appropriation for Pennsylvania State University as a wedge to force Senate action on bills affecting the University of Pittsburgh and Temple.

Chairman James J. A. Gallagher, D-Bucks, said on Wednesday that his committee would act favorably on the Penn State bill when the Senate was ready to act on the Pitt and Temple bills.

Rep. Eugene M. Fulmer, R-Centre, accused Gallagher of playing power politics, but Gallagher denied the charge.

Meanwhile, the committee reported to the floor $53.2 million in appropriations for Pennsylvania universities and colleges, including a provision for pay raises for faculties at Indiana University and the 13 state colleges.

Under the bill, as amended, Indiana and the state colleges would receive $40.2 million. An increase of $1.5 million would finance the salary raises and another increase of $500,000 would set up an emergency fund.

Among the state colleges, Clarion State was raised from $3 million to $3.2 million by the committee, and West Chester was slated for $3,000 more than had been proposed originally.

The Senate currently has in committee three House-passed measures, including a $20.7 million appropriation for Pitt and $19.8 million for Temple. Another House - passed bill in Senate committee would make Pitt a state-related institution.

"When the Senate indicates its willingness to act on these bills, we will report out the Penn State bill," Gallagher said.

In addition to the Indiana and state colleges bill, the following were reported to the floor:

— $9,834,970 to the University of Pennsylvania.
— $500,000 to the University of Pennsylvania Computer Center.
— $2,278,500 to the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.
— $180,000 to the Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture, Doylestown.
— $100,000 to the Dickinson School of Law.
— $15,000 to Franklin & Marshall College's North Museum.

Arraignment Due In Action On Car

LISBON — Fred A. Whittington, 34, of Malvern will be arraigned today before Acting Judge Richard Kennedy in Columbiana County Southwest Area Court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

William Welsh of 745 E. Lincoln Way filed the complaint Wednesday afternoon and Whittington was transferred from Lisbon jail to the County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Welsh reported his 1965 auto missing from a S. Jefferson St. parking place Tuesday midnight.

Police Sgt. Kenneth McKenzie found it two hours later on E. Lincoln Way and said Whittington, who was in a tavern across the street, admitted driving the car. The door was unlocked and the key was in the ignition.

Police said Whittington took a companion to East Liverpool and drove back alone. There was damage to the right side of the car, but the defendant said he does not know how that happened.

State Police Set News Parley On Girl's Kidnaping

HUNTINGDON (AP) — State Police say they will hold a press conference in a few weeks to tie up some loose ends in the kidnaping of Peggy Bradnick.

Lt Edward Mitrowski, one of the chief investigators in the case, said in announcing the conference Wednesday that no date has been set.

He said the girl had accompanied police on several tours of the route she was taken on by her abductor in the rugged Tuscarora Mountains.

The 17-year-old school girl was kidnaped on May 11, by William Diller Hollenbaugh, 44 and held captive for eight days. Hollenbaugh shot and killed an FBI agent and wounded another man before he was fatally wounded and the girl rescued.

Mitrowski added that state police were satisfied that Hollenbaugh was also the Mountain Man, a mysterious sniper who had fired at people in the Shade Gap area for the past two years.

Court Handed Tax Charges

D. G. Wilkinson, city tax commissioner, filed charges Wednesday in Municipal Court citing 20 East Liverpool residents for failure to file returns in connection with the city income tax ordinance.

Some of the defendants are charged with failure to file final returns on 1965 income and the others are accused of not furnishing an estimate on 1966 income. The deadline fell in April for both returns.

Wilkinson said he expects to file 20 charges each week until a backlog of delinquents is cleaned from his files. He said approximately 400 failed to comply with the deadline for final 1965 returns and 1966 estimates.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will set a hearing date for each defendant, then a summons will be served by Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor.

The judge makes it a practice not to reveal the name of the defendants until the notices have been served because in many instances the accounts are settled before the cases get to court.

The charges concern failure to file individual returns. The individual returns are required of any person whose entire income is not subject to withholding at the source. Those who pay their taxes by withholding are not required to file returns, as the employer's report suffices.

Man Bound Over In Check Charge

Frank W. Quinlan of Pittsburgh was bound over to the Grand Jury today under $1,000 bond after he waived a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court alleging he passed a fraudulent $214 check on March 7 at the Thorofare Market on Pennsylvania Ave.

Quinlan pleaded not guilty to the charge, which was signed by Frank Arcuri, the store manager. The affidavit alleged that Quinlan obtained the money by "false pretense," using a check drawn on the First National Bank of Cadiz.

The warrant was served on Quinlan Wednesday by Capt. Robert Pyle and Patrolman Charles A. Winters. Capt. Pyle said the local department has a detainer against Quinlan from Cambridge, where another affidavit is on file alleging he passed a fraudulent check.

Officers Jail Suspect In Palestine Car Theft

EAST PALESTINE — An unidentified suspect was being held today by Youngstown police in connection with the theft of a 1966 model sports coupe valued at $4,800 from an East Palestine dealer's lot Wednesday at 4:20 p. m.

Police said the auto was taken from the lot of Brittain Motors, Inc., on E. Martin St., where it was being shined in preparation for a VFW parade tonight. An East Palestine resident spotted the car about 25 minutes later, being driven toward Youngstown on the East Palestine - Youngstown Rd. He notified the dealer, who relayed the information to local police.

Youngstown authorities said they located the car at 8:15 p. m. and took the driver into custody.

Autopsy, Inquest Set In W. Va. Man's Death

WELLSBURG, W. Va. — An autopsy and inquest were scheduled today into the death of a Wellsburg man whose body was found in a car with a shotgun wound in the back.

Brooke County sheriff's deputies said Wednesday they found the body of 23-year-old Robert Elliot slumped over the steering wheel of a car parked on a rural road east of Wellsburg, near the Pennsylvania state line.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently a group of office girls wrote and asked the correct procedure when a girl has a broken engagement. They were referring to the ring. You said the ring should be returned when the girl breaks the engagement, but that she can keep the ring when the fellow breaks it. Then I thought that you never could understand why a girl would want the ring of a fellow who didn't want her.

May I give you the answer? I did not return the ring because I had to sell it. My fiancé informed me seven days before the wedding that he had decided to marry a woman he had just met a month before.

I needed money to pay for insuring and mailing of hundreds of wedding presents. The bridesmaid's gifts were charged to my account, some floral pieces had been ordered special and I had to settle with the florist.

My gown had been fit and was hanging in the closet. The apartment we were planning to live in had been decorated and I advanced money for that—as well as two months rent. So now you know. — DUMPED AND INSOLVENT.

Dear Dumped: Yup — you were justified. Under the circumstances, the diamond was a girl's best friend.

Too Young, Too Old

Dear Ann: Our 13-year-old daughter could pass for 17. Jan has a crush on my husband's brother, who is 25. He is married and has two children. I'm afraid he has a crush on her, too.

Uncle Jud drops over here about four nights a week. He pretends he comes to talk sports with my husband, but I know it's merely a lame excuse. He always starts with, "What did you think of the ball game yesterday?"—and that's the end of the sports talk.

Jan kisses her uncle and massages his neck to help him "relax." She sits on his lap and they watch TV together. Last night they danced the frug and the jerk and they did some "fun wrestling" on the floor.

I've told my husband I don't like the way this relationship is shaping up. He says Jan is just a kid and that I am evil-minded. Am I?—CONCERNED.

Dear Concerned: You've got a great little group there. Your husband has some missing parts upstairs. Uncle Jud sounds like a case of arrested development, and that 13-year-old daughter needs to have her speedometer adjusted.

Tell your brother-in-law to stay at home with his wife and family or bring them along. Instruct Jan to stay off men's laps and save her hugs and kisses until she can offer them with real meaning.

Her behavior is cheap—but it's also dangerous. If she continues to behave like a sex pot she could land in serious trouble. Like very.

TO MRS. JOHN Q. PUBLIC WHO WANTS TO SPEAK HER PIECE: I agree with you! I, too, struggled with the same miserable package and wondered why the company didn't do a better job. So—I wrote a letter and expressed the same. If enough of us do it we'll get results.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Commissioners Reject Plan For Salem Land Annexation

LISBON — A petition for annexation of N. Lincoln Ave. property in Perry Township to the City of Salem was denied this week by the county commissioners.

The vote was unanimous at the end of a two-hour public hearing in their office at the Courthouse.

Petitioners were Jonas Nasvitis, president of Salem Manor, Inc., and Ralph Dell and Ann Dell. They were represented by Guy Mauro, Salem attorney, and accompanied their request with a supporting affidavit from James Aldom, former City Council president; an affidavit of property "owner" Robert Cox, and a Salem News editorial of April 8, which referred to Salem's corporate boundary lines as "shackles on our community growth and expansion."

The property in question is in the Harper-Beck Allotment on the east side of N. Lincoln just north of the city limits and includes five lots and parts of two others.

Joseph I. Kornbau and George T. Ursu, township trustees, spoke against the petition, as did 10 residents of the area. The trustees submitted a four-part statement:

"(1) Two of the four property owners actually residing in the area do not want to be annexed;

"(2) Two people mentioned above and all other persons at the original annexation meeting purchased property in the township because of their desire to reside in the township rather than in the city;

"(3) The area proposed to be annexed is irregular as it is only on one side of N. Lincoln Ave. and creates a definite source of contention as to where the city responsibility ends and the township responsibility begins, particularly since a few feet of 12th St. will be in the city and the rest in the township;

"(4) At present, all this area proposed for annexation is zoned residential 1 and is subject to Perry Township zoning laws. We have been advised that plans have been drawn to erect objectionable buildings in this area providing annexation is approved. This would have an adverse effect on the area and lower the value of the properties in and adjacent to the area."

Commissioners hired four persons for County Home work on the recommendation of Supt. Robert Boyce. All replacements, they are Winifred Kelly of Lisbon and Pauline Burke of Berlin Center, nurses aides, and Tom Pike of Lisbon R. D. 4, watchman, all at $180 per month, and Robert Woodburn of Harlem Springs, farmer, $230 per month plus $40 maintenance.

Commissioners authorized payment of $50 to John Adams Post 442, American Legion, at Salineville for Memorial Day expenses.

The 1969 sedan of Ruth Ann Knight, 18, of 133 E. 3rd St. drifted from the parking lot at the A. & P. Supermarket on Walnut St. and coasted about 100 feet down a slight grade into the property of Mike Turk, Inc., officers said.

The drifting car struck a parked 1966 four-door sedan, knocking it about two feet and causing it to strike a 1966 two-door sedan, police said. The young woman said she parked the auto and entered the market, discovering it had drifted when she returned about 7:50 p.m.

Summer Playoffs

Those network programmers are sly fellows. Take, for instance, an announcement just made by ABC-TV that it will present seven different half-hour comedy programs on Friday nights at 8 beginning July 22 under the title of "Summer Fun."

The network claims each of the programs was chosen for summer broadcast because of its individual approach to television comedy.

NOT QUITE so! The seven half-hours are cast-off pilots for proposed weekly series which ABC rejected. The network obviously feels it should get a little something out of them—they probably cost anywhere from $100,000 to $250,000—and has decided to work them off as warm-weather fare.

It's not the first time this sort of thing has been done, of course. But this playoff is an unusually large one.

It will give viewers a chance to stack their own programming judgments against the network's, by comparing these sample shows with the new series ABC introduces in September.

THE "SUMMER FUN" lineup:

JULY 22 — "McNab's Lab," with Cliff Arquette as a town druggist.

July 29 — "Little Leatherneck," starring Donna Butterworth as a Marine mascot.

Aug. 5 — "Thompson's Ghost," with Bert Lahr as a blundering 4700-year-old spirit.

Aug. 12 — "The Kwimpers of New Jersey," featuring Tom Ewell and Ernest Truex in the tale of a backwoods family headed for Florida. Original title: "Pioneer Go Home."

Aug. 19 — "Baby Crazy," involving James Stacy and Joan Blondell in the hectic life of a young pediatrician.

Aug. 26 — "The Pirates of Plounder Bay," with Keenan Wynn, Bill Cort and Hal Peary sailing a "ship of fools" in the Caribbean in the early 1800s.

Sept. 2 — "Meet Me in St. Louis," starring Shirley Fabares and Celeste Holm in a remake of the old movie hit of this title.

CBS may have an announcement shortly, similar to ABC's. Tentative plans are to run off some comedy pilots in the "Lucy Show" time, later this summer.

THEY'VE HAD some second thoughts at ABC about the titles of a couple of new series to be introduced in the fall.

Evidently a certain amount of critical derision over the name of a new Western adventure hour, "Them Monroes," finally got to the network's decision makers.

An ABC source explained that they concluded this title was misleading and had "too much of a hillbilly connotation."

Hence, "Them Monroes," which concerns five orphaned youngsters who struggle for survival in the Wyoming wilderness in the 1870s, will be known instead as "Wild Country"—which shows how hard titles are to come by.

The series now may be confused with a departed NBC n-try named "Wide Country."

IN ANOTHER SWITCH, a new "hard-hitting" detective drama called "Men Against Evil" has been redubbed "The Heavy Squad."

The reasons for this change are a little more obscure, since the new series starring Howard Duff and Ben Alexander will have the task now of establishing in the viewers' minds what a "heavy squad" is.

Asked about the retitling, Leonard Goldberg, the network's program chief, explained:

"We were looking for a more exciting, contemporary title. Actually, the 20th Century-Fox people came up with the new name. They said there is a police detail in Los Angeles or somewhere out there that deals with crimes of heavy proportions or unique aspects and it's called 'the heavy squad.'"

JACK BENNY arrived in New York last week preparatory to making a 10-day appearance at a Long Island "music fair," but neither he nor NBC had any immediate announcement about their plans for him to headline more TV specials.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Children Can Be Taught Moral Courage

Our public servants such as the mayor, governor, members of the city council, members of the state legislature, members of Congress, senators, and other officials are elected by the people.

While they are getting elected or serving after election the public generally refer to Dr. Garry Myers them as "politicians." Often this name carries with it an ugly flavor. Most children suppose politicians are not the kind of people to be emulated. They learn from the news that an occasional person elected or appointed to a position of public trust and leadership does not measure up to their ideals.

Getting our attention on these few who do not measure up we and our children tend to suppose all public servants, politicians, are the same type.

BUT WHEN we take the trouble to get the facts we find that most public servants are men and women of high quality and character. Most of them don't get paid for their public service nearly as much as they could earn in private life.

Let us consider the kind of person each mayor, governor, or president of the United States appoints to his cabinet or to other offices requiring trust and ability. During the memory of most of us we can recall reading or hearing in the news about able people who were willing to do a great public service and accept an appointment from his president or governor at a salary which is a small fraction of the job he was giving up.

If I were a social science teacher in high school I think I could enlist youths there in a large project of collecting information about the able public servants who made great financial sacrifices in order to render what seemed to them a patriotic duty.

THE FIRST book I would emphasize with them is Profiles of Courage by John F. Kennedy. I wish our schoolbooks were full of such information, so that our children who will become the public servants of the future, politicians, if you please, might look forward to prove fit, to render worthy public service.

Our children in the home as they grow up with us and talk with us about public servants tend to imitate us in arriving at an image of public servants. With our human frailties we are inclined to color our talk and our evaluation of public servants with our emotions, our prejudices. It is not easy for us always to speak objectively and to give due credit for the high quality of public service by the man or woman of a political party different from our own.

NFL And AFL End Feud, Schedule Merger For 1970

Rozelle Will Guide 26-Team League

NEW YORK (AP) — The National and American football leagues have linked hands in a merger plan that will produce a gigantic 26-team league and end an era that turned college glories into instant millionaires.

The marriage between the 15-team NFL and the nine-team AFL took place at a hastily called ceremony Wednesday that ended their bitter six-year battle and, at the same time, left this year's college crop standing at the altar.

"It looks like I graduated just in time," said Joe Namath, New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback and the original instant millionaire.

"I think large contracts will be harder to come by for everybody without the competition between the leagues."

"I guess you'd have to say I just got in under the wire," said Mike Garrett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California who signed for a reported $300,000 with the Kansas City Chiefs. "I'm sure lucky."

"I'll tell you one thing," added Namath. "I'm really looking forward to that title game between the two leagues."

The title game will take place at the end of the 1966 season — and will mark the first time teams from the two leagues will meet on the playing field. The NFL and AFL will hold their separate title games before meeting in the world championship game.

That was one of the key items listed in the plans announced Wednesday that eventually will expand the new league to 26 teams in 25 cities by 1970, under the supervision of Pete Rozelle, now the NFL commissioner.

The major points, besides the championship game, on which the two leagues reached agreement were:

—All existing franchises will be retained and no franchises will be transferred from their present locations.

—Until 1970 when all existing contracts expire and a single schedule is drawn up, the two leagues will continue to operate separately.

—While the leagues still are operating individually, they will not be permitted to engage in inter-league trading of players.

—Two new franchises for a total of 26 will be added no later than 1968, one in each league, and two more teams will be added as soon as practical after that.

—The two leagues will conduct a common draft following the 1966 season.

—The leagues will begin playing inter-league exhibition games before the 1967 season.

There will be continued two network television coverage.

In addition, the plan calls for the AFL to pay the NFL $18 million over a 20-year period, plus the money received from the addition of the two new franchise holders.

The peace plan was seen as a victory for both leagues.

The NFL will be paid a total that will reach in the neighborhood of $25 million when the money from the new franchises is added.

The six-year-old AFL ends its long search for recognition and a claim to parity with the 44-year-old NFL.

And both leagues cut off the multi-million dollar war for player talent, ended the escalating raiding battle and insured themselves of additional revenue through the championship game meeting.

While solving most problems the plan did, however, leave two big questions unanswered — which would be the next franchises and what would be the position of Al Davis, AFL commissioner, in the merger set-up.

There were no concrete answers but it appeared that the leading franchise contenders were New Orleans, Seattle, and Cincinnati.

Davis was not available for comment but it was considered doubtful that he would take a position in the new alignment.

Friends predicted that he would return to coaching.

Also up in the air was the question of whether the merger might bring antitrust action from the Justice Department, which said in Washington that it would take a "close look" at the plan. Rozelle said he did not think there would be any problems.

"We have talked with Senator Hart, D-Mich., and Rep. Celler, D-N.Y., who are chairman of the judiciary committees in their particular houses," Rozelle pointed out.

"I feel this realignment certainly isn't a risk and isn't unwarranted. Football is a sport with certain business aspects. I don't see where enlargement makes it more of a business."

Rozelle also established firmly that although the two leagues will not formally merge until 1970, he is the top man starting immediately.

"I am commissioner of both leagues—as of right now," he said.

Asked why the AFL had to pay the NFL, Rozelle said:

"A portion of it must go to the New York Giants and San Francisco 49ers for encroachment on their territorial agreements. We did the same for Washington when we moved a franchise into Baltimore."

Rozelle was making reference to the fact that the Giants and AFL's New York Jets and the 49ers and the AFL's Oakland Raiders share the same market. In addition, Rozelle said, "Our owners felt that in recognizing and joining with AFL teams, we were adding value to their franchises."

Rozelle also left no doubt that any player contracts signed with a rival league for 1967 would be voided under the terms of the agreement which stipulates that there can be no inter-league trades before 1970.

Rozelle also made a distinction between the cases involving soccer-style kicker Pete Gogolak and quarterback Roman Gabriel.

Gogolak played out his option with the AFL's Buffalo Bills and signed with the NFL's New York Giants. Gabriel, a member of the Los Angeles Rams, is reported to have signed a contract with the AFL's Oakland Raiders to begin play in 1967.

Rozelle said, "the Gogolak contract has been duly approved. It will not be affected by the merger." As for the Gabriel case, Rozelle said:

"Since this would involve a future date, it would be a case that would have to be studied."

Mike Fisher pitched a 5-hit and was backed by a 14-hit attack as Newell thumped Shippingport, 17-5.

Richard Pecka belted two home runs and went three for three and Nick Horosko added a home run in leading the Newell barrage.

T. Brooks of Shippingport also socked a home run as J. Christy suffered the loss.

Lawrenceville blasted Hookstown pitching for 15 hits in recording a 25-4 victory.

Winning pitcher Fred Bryan struck out 12 batters.

R. Mott was the losing pitcher.

Jack Mumaw and Bruce Haun each belted home runs for the victors and Randy Brown had three hits to lead the attack.

John Vandine had two hits for Hookstown.

Lawyers Rally To Beat Florists In Colt Loop

Lawyers rallied for three runs in the top of the 6th inning and added an insurance run in the 7th to topple Riverview Florists, 4-2, in Tri-State Colt League action Wednesday.

Riverview took a 1-0 lead in the first inning and added a run in the 5th as Cunningham shut out the Lawyers for a 2-0 lead entering the 6th frame.

Cunningham suffered the loss although allowing just four hits and striking out six batters. Errors helped to lead to his downfall as Riverview committed five miscues.

Gerry Gregg hurled a 7-hit and struck out four batters in gaining the win.

Wendruth paced the victors with three of the four hits surrounded by Cunningham.

Chambers paced Riverview with two hits.

Waslewski Wins 7th As Toronto Whips Suns, 5-2

Toronto's Gary Waslewski is the only International League pitcher with seven wins to his credit for the season.

Waslewski's seventh, and fourth straight, came Wednesday night as the Maple Leafs sent the slumping Jacksonville Suns to their 11th loss in their last 14 starts, 5-2.

Waslewski gave up six hits but only one in the last five innings.

Toledo scored four double plays in its 2-0 victory over Syracuse, and Columbus had two double plays in its first game 3-0 defeat of Rochester and added another in a 7-4 loss to Rochester in the nightcap.

Former pitcher Sid Hudson is the minor league pitching coach for the Washington Senators.

Cards Whip Bucs; Giants, LA Lose

By ED SCHUYLER Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron's appetite is improved — and so is his home run hitting.

The lithe Atlanta Braves star, who says a minor internal operation in the off-season enabled him to gain weight, continued his homer assault Wednesday night by belting a pair, one with the bases loaded, as the Braves beat the New York Mets 7-6.

Aaron, who now has a major league leading 20 homers and 48 runs batted in, said that since the operation he is eating better and now weighs 183 pounds—10 more than he did at the end of last season and five above his normal playing weight.

With the added strength, the perennial all-star is admittedly off to the fastest start of his career. His highest homer (44) and RBI (132) totals were in 1957, the year he was named Most Valuable Player.

Houston beat San Francisco 6-1 and sent Juan Marichal to his second straight defeat, the Chicago Cubs trounced Los Angeles 8-1, St. Louis walloped Pittsburgh 11-5 and Philadelphia outslugged Cincinnati 10-6 in other National League action.

The second game of the two-night affair between Baltimore and Washington was stopped because of a curfew with Washington leading 5-4. The game will resume tonight.

Aaron got his bases empty homer in the first inning and put the Braves ahead 5-0 with his grand slam in the third. He also doubled home his sixth run of the game in the fifth and added a single, giving him a 4-for-5 night and raising his average to .396.

Mack Jones hit his sixth homer for the Braves in the seventh, and it proved to be the winner when Chuck Hiller belted a pinch hit homer for the Mets in the ninth. The Mets also scored three times in the third and twice in the fifth.

Trailing 1-0, Houston broke loose for four runs in the sixth against Marichal, the Giants' 10-game winner. John Bateman's two-run single climaxed the outburst. Marichal was relieved in the seventh when the first two men singled. The Astros got two runs in the innings.

Randy Hundley's first major league grand slam highlighted a five-run fourth inning against Los Angeles' Don Drysdale who was trying to even his record at 5-5. Dick Ellsworth went the distance for the Cubs and picked up his second victory in 10 decisions.

St. Louis wasted little time against Pittsburgh, driving Vern Law from the mound in the first inning when the Cards scored six runs.

Julian Javier led the Cardinal attack with a homer, triple and single and three RBI. Willie Stargell hit his 10th homer for the Pirates and added a double and single.

Philadelphia got a three-run homer from Tony Gonzales, a two-run homer from Richie Allen and a bases empty blast by Clay Dalrymple in outslugging Cincinnati. The Reds got a two-run homer from Dick Simpson and bases empty blasts by Deron Johnson and Jim Coker.

Arlin Only Buckeye On All-Big 10 Nine

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —Pitcher Steve Arlin is the only member of the champion Ohio State Buckeyes named on the first team of the All-Big Ten baseball squad announced here Wednesday night.

The fact that nine of the Bucks' 15 conference games were rained out probably kept others from making it, but outfielder Bob Baker and catcher Chuck Brinkman were accorded second team honors by the selection committee of conference coaches.

With Arlin on the first team are pitcher Bob Reed, Michigan; Jack Campbell, Indiana; 1b; Harlan Krafft, Wisconsin; 2b; Bob Gilhooley, Michigan; ss; John Biedenbach, Michigan State; 3b; Ted Sizemore, Michigan, c, and outfielders Frank Brosseau and Bob Fenwick, Minnesota, and Bob Speer, MSU.

Kaline's HR, 3 RBIs Spark Tigers; Indians Nip Yanks As Orioles Win

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pennant-hungry Detroit Tigers are making more noise in the American League race now that their big gun, Al Kaline, is taking a firmer toehold at the plate.

Kaline was in a Baltimore grade school in 1945 when Hank Greenberg, then Detroit's hot shot runner, came out of the Army and homered the Tigers into the World Series. They haven't won an AL flag since.

Kaline, who underwent surgery for a foot malformation last fall, hammered two homers and drove in three runs as Detroit edged Boston 5-4 Wednesday night. The veteran outfielder kept his team in the game until Don Wert walked with the bases filled in the 11th, forcing in the winning run.

The other AL games were close, too. Cleveland edged the New York Yankees 2-1. Baltimore beat Washington 6-5 in 14 innings. Kansas City defeated Minnesota 5-4 and California blanked the Chicago White Sox, 1-0.

Kaline's performance lifted his totals to eight homers and 24 runs batted in and increased his batting average to .291. He hit .281 last season when the Tigers finished fourth.

The victory was the Tigers' seventh in their last eight games and enabled them to remain only one game back of Cleveland and Baltimore. The Indians lead by six percentage points.

The Tigers tied the game 4-4 in the eighth on Kaline's second homer. Jim Northrup opened the 11th with a single and raced to third when Joe Foy muffed pitcher Don McMahon's throw on Willie Horton's bunt. Bill Freehan walked, filling the bases. McMahon then walked Wert and Northrup stroled home with the winner.

Jim Gosger hammered two homers and Tony Conigliaro one for Boston.

Sam McDowell, making his first appearance in two weeks, enabled the Indians to maintain their slim league lead. The fireballing left-hander, who had been sidelined with a sore arm, relieved starter Gary Bell after Mickey Mantle opened the ninth with a single. McDowell retired the next three batters on fly balls.

The Yanks scored their only run in the seventh when Roger Maris singled and scored on Joe Pepitone's double. The Indians picked up their first run in the second on doubles by Max Alvis and Joe Azcue. The second run came in the fourth when Fred Whitfield singled, stole second and later scored when Azcue grounded into a double play.

Baltimore's victory in the first game of a two-night doubleheader was the result of 14th inning doubles by Luis Aparicio and pinch hitter Camille Carreon. The second game was suspended because of Baltimore's city curfew with the Senators leading 5-4 after five innings. It will be continued before tonight's regularly scheduled game.

Russ Snyder's failure to touch first base on an apparent triple almost cost Baltimore a chance to win the opener in the 14th. He opened the frame by reaching third on a drive over center

NL Goes Before Court Over Milwaukee Dispute

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The 61-page document prepared by Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette, disputed baseball's contention that the sport was outside the jurisdiction of the state.

The National League and its 10 members clubs asked the state's highest court to throw out their antitrust conviction.

There were indications the court would try to rule on baseball's appeal in early summer, perhaps by the mid-season All-Star game July 12.

The league is under order by a Milwaukee County Circuit Court to bring the Braves back from Atlanta unless Milwaukee is assured a 1967 expansion team.

That order has been suspended until the appeal is decided. The battle, first major challenge to baseball's antitrust immunity in 44 years, may go as high as the U.S. Supreme Court before it is settled.

Wisconsin, which filed the antitrust suit nearly a year ago, said Wednesday in its reply to the appeal that no other state had suffered such harm at the hands of baseball.

"Never before in its modern history has baseball ever completely abandoned a community," the state said.

The first Maltese Specialty show ever held in the United States will be the feature of 21st annual all-breed dog and obedience trial show sponsored by the Columbiana County Kennel Club, Inc.

The show will be held at the Saxon Country Club recreation grounds, three miles south of Salem from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday with 639 entries expected in the overall competition that will cover 77 breeds.

There are 50 entries scheduled in the Maltese class with dog breeders from coast to coast showing off the miniature breed that originated on the Island of Malta.

This year's field of 639 is a record field, topping last year's competition of 571 entries.

Superintendent of the show is Allan P. MacIver of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Officers of the Columbiana club are Mrs. Stewart Pendleton, president; Lucian Unger, vice-president; Nelson Groh, treasurer and Mrs. Dan McDonald, secretary.

Judges for the show are Reed F. Hankwitz, John Cook, William L. Kendrick, J. P. Hackett, Mrs. Mildred Heald and Mrs. L. W. Bonney.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded for winners in breed and obedience classes.

A post show dinner will be held at the Lape Hotel in Salem with breeders, exhibitors and handlers invited to attend.

Ohio Golfer Second In Seniors Tourney

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—John W. Roberts, formerly of Columbus, Ohio, and now of Honolulu, first-day leader in the 36-hole U.S. Senior Golf Association championship, weakened in the concluding round Wednesday and settled for runnerup honors.

Roberts finished 70-78—148 to 75-70—145 for winner George Haggarty, Grosse Pointe Shores, Mich. Other Ohioans among the leaders were J. C. Watson, Steubenville, tied for seventh with 75-75—150, and Robert Morton, Columbus, tied for 14th with 74-78—152.

Indians Draft Two High School Players

CLEVELAND (AP)—The drafting of two Cleveland area high school baseball players was announced Wednesday by the Cleveland Indians.

They are William Kollman, a third baseman from Twinsburg, and Ollie Coffey, a catcher from Cleveland East Tech. Both are 18-year-old seniors.

Kollman was selected for the Indians' Dubuque farm club in the Class A Midwest League. Coffey was drafted for the Tribe's Reno team in the Class A California League.

Since 1961 every USGA Junior Amateur golf championship has been won by a Californian until 1965 when James Masserio of Pittsburgh, Pa., beat 14-year-old Lloyd Liebler of Portsmouth, Va., 3 and 2.

NBA Officials Shaken Up On Reserve Clause Move

BALTIMORE (AP)—Officials of the National Basketball Association seem somewhat less than shaken by a players' suggestion that the reserve clause be eliminated from NBA contracts.

The NBA players association made the proposal Wednesday as the league's board of governors wound up a two-day meeting.

Walter Kennedy, NBA president, said the matter would be referred to a standing committee and reviewed at a special meeting to be called sometime late in July.

But Kennedy said the primary purpose of the July meeting would be to discuss officiating in the NBA and the possibility of a merchandising program to promote the league through the sale of various articles.

Oscar Robertson, of the Cincinnati Royals and president of the players' group, and attorney Larry Fleisher outlined the suggestions of the association.

Little Diner Wallops DeMolay In Slo Pitch

Losing pitcher John Welker paced the DeMolay batting with two hits.

Auto Body Supply defeated Dudes Bar, 14-9, in action at East End.

Bob Christen and Willie Snow belted home runs to lead the victory as Bob Laughlin registered the win.

Ohio Traffic Kills 4 More

By The Associated Press
Pedestrians age 6 and 86, a 5-year-old on a tricycle, an 8-year-old trying to jump onto his dad's truck are among the latest additions to Ohio's list of dead from motor vehicle accidents.

Victims included:
Janice Mills, 6, Kingsville, Ashtabula County.
Mark Trabal, 5, Mantua Twp., Portage County.
Marion Ealey, 8, a boy, Harrod, Allen County.
John J. Lane, 86, Harrod, Allen County.

The Mills girl, believed on her way to school, was hit by a car Wednesday morning in Kingsville and died Wednesday night in Ashtabula General Hospital.

Young Trabal was on a country road near his home Wednesday riding his tricycle when a car came over a hill and couldn't avoid striking him. The Ealey boy tried to jump onto a truck his father, Vernon Ealey, was backing from a driveway Wednesday when he fell beneath the wheels.

Lane was walking west on an Allen County road, wearing dark clothes after dark Wednesday night, when hit by a west-bound car.

Military Planes Cause Flurry Of Phone Calls

CINCINNATI (AP) — Military planes circling to burn off fuel before landing at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, caused a flurry of telephone calls to newspapers late Wednesday night.

Some of the callers said they thought a large airplane circling above Clermont County, east of Cincinnati, might be in trouble and looking for a place to land.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, June 9, the 160th day of 1966. There are 205 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1953, a devastating tornado touched down in Worcester, Mass., and neighboring towns, killing at least 97 persons and injuring 1,250 others. Damage estimates ran as high as $2 million dollars.

On this date: In 1791, the author of "Home, Sweet Home" — John Howard Payne — was born in New York City.

In 1940, the Norwegian army surrendered to the Nazis during World War II.

In 1942, a combined production and resources board was set up by the U.S. and Britain.

In 1943, Bernard Baruch was appointed special adviser to the Office of War Mobilization.

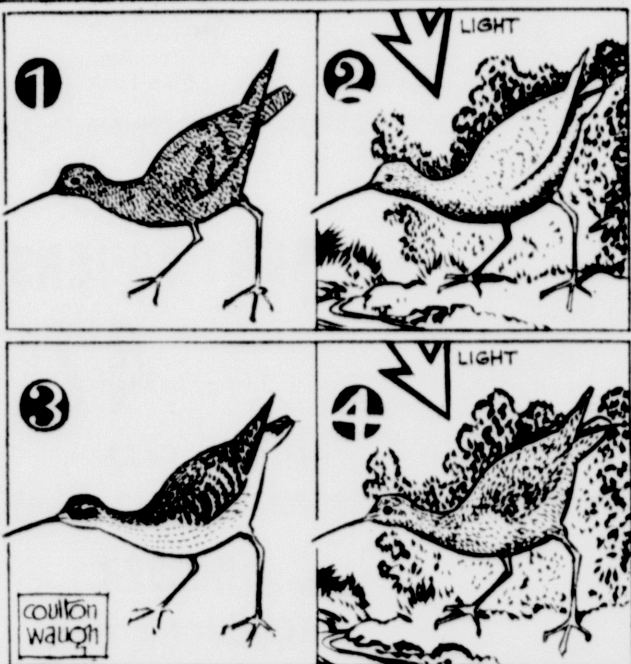

In 1945, wartime Japanese Premier Kantaro Suzuki announced that Japan would fight to the last.

Ten years ago — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived in New York en route to Washington for a week of official conferences with U.S. officials.

Five years ago — The U.N. Security Council called on Portugal, in its words, desist from repressive measures in its West African colony of Angola.

One year ago — The White House confirmed the potential combat role for U.S. troops in South Viet Nam, but insisted there had been no change in the primary mission of the American combat force — to protect vital bases.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMAL COLORS

QUESTION: How does an animal get protection by means of its color?

ANSWER: If an animal's color is very different from that of his surroundings, other animals can see him and catch him for food. But the animal whose color resembles its background tends to survive. In this way, nature develops animals which resemble their background, such as white ptarmigans and other white animals living in the Arctic with its areas of white ice and snow. Our picture shows one way in which birds keep themselves hard to see. Most birds are colored as in (1), darker above and lighter below. Now suppose that a bird was colored an even gray as in (2). The light coming down from above as in (2) would make his back look light even if it actually was gray. In the same way there would be a dark shadow over his underpart. This contrast would make him stand out and be easily visible, even if against a gray background as in (2). But, with the arrangements of most birds as in (3), the light coming down from above on his dark back will make it look gray. And the light color of his underbody will neutralize the dark shadow, making that look gray too. The result is, as in (4), he presents a general gray appearance, very difficult to see against the average background of nature.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check the birds around your home to see if most of them do not follow this protective pattern of a darker back and lighter underbody.

Marlene Spradley of Chester, Pa., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
